Establishing your Neonatal Transitional Care Unit

Best practice advice and innovative ideas to progress transitional care within your neonatal service

This one day conference will explore the opportunities to improve your existing service or develop a new unit, equipping you with the tools to establish transitional care. Designed for Service Managers, Neonatal Nurses and Consultants this unique event will host presentations and discussion encompassing how you can adapt transitional care for your service, overcome the barriers and get to grips with the practicalities, which will benefit your whole team. Key focuses are:

- What's new with transitional care? Share national insight into where it has been and where it is going
- Overcome the barriers: resolve problems, lessons learnt and what you could do differently in your unit
- Adapting transitional care for your needs: implementable transitional care service models and innovative ideas
- Practicalities of delivering transitional care: understand where it should sit within the pathway and how you can achieve collaborative working
- Roles, responsibilities and staffing: make the most of the resources you already have and working in a MDT
- Measure the success: assess clinical outcomes, patient experience and cost efficiency

Share your challenges, benchmark your unit and services and discuss new ideas with:

- Helen Mactier, Consultant Neonatologist, Honorary Clinical Associate Professor, University of Glasgow, Chair, Scottish Neonatal Consultants' Group and Honorary Secretary, British Association of Perinatal Medicine
- Matthew Nash, Consultant Neonatologist, Birmingham Women's and Children's NHS Foundation Trust
- El Mehdi Garbash, Consultant Paediatrician and Neonatal Lead, County Durham and Darlington NHS Foundation Trust
- Samantha Plets, Ward Manager, St James' University Hospital, The Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust
- Andrew Cox, Consultant Neonatologist, Lancashire Women and Newborn Centre, East Lancashire Hospitals NHS Trust
